Technical Guide Section I - Reference List

INTRODUCTION

This reference section of the Field Office Technical Guide (FOTG) has been developed to include several categories of publications, materials, and Internet Links categorized in the subject matter groups below. References listed without a link in the location column are available for review in NRCS state, area, and field offices.

General References
Agronomy References
Biology References
Economics/Sociology References
Engineering References
Forestry References
Plant Materials References
Soil References
Water Quality References

These sections will be updated on a continuous basis. Be aware that some of the referenced publications are updated on an annual basis and that links to Internet web sites change periodically. If a change in a web link is discovered, please notify the State Resource Conservationist listed in the Kentucky Ecological Sciences directory on the state web home page via E-mail:
